Who is the owner of the device?	I am the owner of the drive.
What kind of device do you have?	Hard Drive
Manufacturer:	Samsung
Model:	ST1000LM024
Do you have a RAID?	No
Device(s) serial number (if unsure, write "Don't Know"):	S30YJ9AG100853
Physical Size	2.5 inch / Laptop or Portable External Drive
Interface/connection	Don't Know/Other
Format/Operating System	Windows / PC
What data do you want us to recover?	Just USER files like Documents, Photos, Music, Videos, etc (most typical scenario for INTERNAL hard drives: no System files or Programs/Applications will be recovered)
List the most important file(s) needing to be recovered:	The folder named 'NMS projects for transfer' (or similar) located on the desktop;
How was the data lost (i.e., drive dropped, deleted files, etc)?	I accidentally pressed the drive while running. The head became stuck but is now unstuck.
Describe previous data recovery attempts (if any):	I have unstuck the head and switched on the drive.

Will you "provide" or "buy" a transfer drive to move the recovered data to?

I will buy a transfer drive from $300 Data Recovery (if my data can be recovered).

Which drive would you like to buy from us?

- 1TB (Portable USB 3): $75

How should we format your transfer drive?

300DDR can decide for me

Select any that apply (these are rare cases, less than 10% of the drives we receive). If you are not sure, we will let you know if there are any applicable extra fees before we start working on your drive.

My drive's cover (not the external "enclosure") has been opened ($50 up-front fee, non-refundable, put towards successful recovery)

Since your drive incurs one or more up-front fees, check the associated boxes below that apply to you and pay using your credit card (if you have a RAID, be sure to enter the correct "# of hard drives"). If you wish to pay in-person, rather than online, uncheck the "Potential Fees" or "Priority Service" fees above and skip this step.

- $50 Cover Opened Fee ("cover" is the "lid" on the hard drive, not the enclosure; +$250 due if recovery is successful) (Amount: 50.00 USD, # of hard drives: 1)

Total: $50.00
